

BLOODHOUNDS GET GUILTY MAN WHO TRIED TO WRECK BRIDGE.

Gibson Bryner Held on Charge of Cutting Stringers and Supports of Narrow Gauge Structure in Mountains.

BLOODHOUNDS FROM FAIRMONT

Discovery of Oastardly Crime Was Made Early Yesterday Morning Preventing Intended Accident—Arrest Was Made Last Night.

Gibson Bryner was arrested in the mountains above Dunbar last night about 6 o'clock following an all-day chase by bloodhounds followed by officers headed by County Detective Alex McBeth. Bryner is charged with cutting the stringers and supports of a bridge on the narrow gauge railroad of the Tri-State Lumber Company, six miles above Dunbar. The bridge stringers were cut on Thursday night. Luckily the disaster was averted. The bridge was discovered early Friday morning by employees of the company before a train came along and a fatal accident was prevented. Had the morning's train, which usually carries a number of persons besides the crew going to or from their work in the mountains, plunged into the ravine under the bridge a number of lives undoubtedly would have been lost.

Immediately after the attempt to wreck the train was discovered yesterday morning Messrs. Hargis and Landis of Fairmont, W. Va., were communicated with and brought two bloodhounds to Dunbar on the 10 o'clock train. The hounds were at once taken to the scene of the attempted wreck and there took up the trail of the man who cut away the stringers. Bryner had made a long detour from the bridge to his home after cutting away the supports on Thursday night and had crossed and recrossed his trail. It is said, but the dogs finally brought the officers to his home shortly after 6 o'clock last evening.

Bryner was taken to Dunbar where he was held for court at a hearing before Judge Cameron. Bail was set at $15,000.

The Tri-State company has a three-rail system, making it possible to run both standard and narrow gauge cars on their road from Dunbar as far as the junction of Tucker run. Above the junction the road is entirely a narrow gauge. About one mile above the junction the railroad crosses a ravine over a bridge 100 feet long. This bridge was discovered to be almost completely destroyed Friday morning when workmen were going to work. The "stringers" and supports of the trestle had been chopped off.

VAGRANTS IN TOILS; AN OLD OFFENDER

Two Boys Accuse William Douglas of Furnishing Them With Whisky, Police Court.

William Douglas, who claims to have no home and who is remembered by the police as a frequent visitor here last winter, is in the toils once more and more serious charges than of mere vagrancy may be lodged against him. John Holt and Albert Ruff, two boys, testified in police court this morning that Douglas had furnished them with whisky after promising to look out for their welfare while they peddled the coke ovens at Davidson works.

The boys came from Baltimore and were looking for work. They claim to be teenagers, but are rather light for a job of that nature. Both are 17 years old and rather undersized.

Burgess Evans gave Douglas 19 hours and ordered the boys held for further investigation.

Ed Burrill, a negro, appeared for a hearing after posting a forfeit. He was charged by Officer Thomas McDonald with disorderly conduct, his wife having made information against him. Burrill declared his wife would not let him alone and he made a bluff at hitting her to drive her back home. The wife told the officer her husband was drunk and ought to be at home.

Three drunks of the ordinary variety were given the usual sentence.

GARFIELD REPUDIATES THE STANDARD OIL.

Declares That Archbold's Statements Concerning the Big Decision Are Not Justified. No Aggregation of Wealth Greater Than Country.

United Press Telegram. CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 27.—James R. Garfield, former Secretary of the Interior, today repudiated the statement of John D. Archbold regarding the Standard Oil decision. He declared the statement that the victory of the government is barren, only showing the anti-trust law is unsatisfactory, is not justified.

Mr. Garfield said it is true President

Roosevelt recommended changes in the law, but not until the government was given direct control and regulation of industrial corporations similar to the regulation of railroads and other common carriers. He says the court sustains every contention regarding unfair competition and methods of control through subsidiary companies. He says:

"Another feature of the decision is that the court has shown that no aggregation of capital is stronger than the United States, that laws can be enforced against even the greatest of corporations. The Roosevelt administration attacked the Standard Oil Company not because it was big but because it violated the laws. For the first time the independents are enjoying fair treatment by the railroads."

YANKEE CONSUL THROWN IN JAIL.

American Official at Managua Arrested by Zelayan Forces.

FEARED HE KNEW TOO MUCH

New Orleans Receives Reports of the Arrest and Also Details of Brutality Towards Americans Who Were Assassinated.

United Press Telegram. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—Dispatches here today say Vice Consul Caldera at Managua has been imprisoned by President Zelaya's forces but no confirmation of the rumor has been received. The dispatches say Caldera is missing and he is believed to be one of the many prisoners held.

Friends here have been unable to communicate with Caldera. The reason for his alleged imprisonment is said to be a desire of Zelaya to hide from the United States government the cruelties attending the execution of Cannon and Grace. It is known the State Department has been unable to get a reply to its inquiries concerning the execution.

The Zelayan government is said to have opened the letters of the Vice Consul. This led to his imprisonment. Passengers arriving here say Cannon and Grace were captured on neutral ground and taken together like oxen for hours. A hundred pound weight was tied to the neck, reports say. The men were then scourged with the "cat-o-nine-tails." Officials of the Nicaragua government siding in the search of Caldera can find no trace of him. Dr. Salvador Castillo, representing the provisional government at Washington, has asked assistance to find Caldera. A message from Nicaragua received by Castillo is said to have caused him to believe Caldera was imprisoned and possibly shot.

A HEAVY FOG IN YOUGH REGION

Caused Inconvenience to the Railroads and the West Penn Railways—Mercury at 32.

The worst fog of the season enveloped the coke region this morning. The haze dropped like a blanket between 6 and 7 o'clock and caused no little inconvenience to the railroads. The West Penn cars were off schedule because of the confusion made necessary due to the adverse weather conditions.

Permanent orders are in effect requiring motorists to run at a speed that will enable them to stop the car the distance that they can see. As the fog was so dense that it proved almost impenetrable, slow progress was made.

The sun did not come out until after 10 o'clock and it was after noon before the fog was finally dispersed. The air was cool and crisp this morning. At 8 o'clock the mercury registered 72 degrees. Yesterday morning it was 54 and 13 last evening.

BANKERS WILL MEET ON FRIDAY.

An important meeting of the Bankers Clearing House Association is scheduled for next Friday. The meeting will be the first since organization and the most important feature is to form a permanent working body. The committees are hard at work upon the by-laws and it will probably take up all the time of the meeting to get them in shape to suit all interests. One of the particular points that will come up for discussion is whether the Association shall meet every Friday on twice a week. Some of the bankers favor meeting every week, while others declare for twice a week.

YOUGH MEDICO CLUB MEETS WITH DR. ECHARD

Prominent Surgeons From Pittsburgh Guests of Society and Address the Members.

The Yough Medico Social Club met last night at the home of Dr. T. B. Echard on South Pittsburgh street and had as its guest Dr. J. Martley Anderson and Dr. William Sherman, two prominent surgeons of Pittsburgh. Dr. Anderson is professor of surgery of the medical department of the University of Pittsburgh and surgeon at the West Penn and Columbia hospitals, Pittsburgh. Dr. Sherman, his assistant, was recently appointed chief consulting surgeon of the United States Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh. All members were present with the exception of Dr. G. W. Gallagher, who was detained on account of sickness. Dr. L. P. McCormick, president of the club, presided. The meeting was one of the best held since the organization of the club.

Dr. Anderson was the principal speaker of the evening. He had for his subject "Injuries to the Kidneys." The subject was one of great interest to the physicians and was ably discussed and illustrated by 40 lantern slides. Great benefit was derived by the local physicians from Dr. Anderson's talk. Practically every phase of kidney disease was discussed and illustrated. At the conclusion of Dr. Anderson's address the doctors and their guests adjourned to the dining room where a turkey supper was served. A banquet of huge chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece. Later the doctors inspected the new private hospital of Drs. Echard and Hoffman and all were favorably impressed with the new institution.

The visits of Dr. Henderson and Dr. Sherman were greatly enjoyed by the local doctors. Dr. Sherman and Dr. Echard were classmates at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Other guests of the club were Dr. J. H. Dunbar, and Dr. E. C. Hoffman of Connellsville. The next regular meeting of the club will be held next Thursday evening at the home of Dr. Hugh Baker in the Masonic building on South Pittsburgh street.

BARN BURNED; STOCK CREMATED.

Disastrous Fire Near Pleasant Valley School House Last Night.

OWNED BY ABE STILLWAGON

Stock, Wagons and Farming Implements Besides Grain and Hay All Destroyed—Only $100 Insurance on Barns Erected About a Year Ago.

Between 11 and 12 o'clock last night the fine new barn of Abe Stillwagon, located near Pleasant Valley school house, beyond the Breakneck reservoir, was totally destroyed by fire, causing a loss of several thousand dollars. When the fire was discovered by the family the barn was a mass of flames and beyond saving. Three horses, two mules, two cows, a calf, two new carriages and two wagons, besides all the grain and feed and poultry was burned. Not a thing was saved from the flames and today there is only standing the foundation.

The barn was erected by Mr. Stillwagon about a year ago and was one of the finest in that section. All the season's harvest was stored in it and the loss will be heavy. The general impression is that someone entered the building in search of chickens and set a match in the hay now, while others are of the impression that the hay caused spontaneous combustion.

The barn is located upon a high hill and the flames were visible to the surrounding territory and could be plainly seen in Connellsville. Many of the farmers and mountaineers of the section went to the scene of the blaze, but they could not do anything to check it. Mr. Stillwagon's house is located a short distance from the barn and the efforts of the workers to save it from destruction were successful. The animals in the barn cremated a general commotion before being overcome by the fire and smoke, but there was no possible chance to save them and they were burned to death in a short time, so hence was the blaze.

THE PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY

In the Afternoon There Will Be a Meeting for Men Only at the Soloson Theatre—Sermons at Two Churches in the Evening.

The second night's meetings of the simultaneous evangelistic campaign showed no apparent diminishment of interest at either of the churches of the two districts. At the First Baptist church the south district congregations were out in force, hearing Rev. Henry Ostrom's sermon from the text, "Some one hath touched me." At the First Methodist Episcopal church, in the north district, Rev. Mahood addressed a large audience. He preached from Matthew 25:5, his topic being on indifference.

The music at both services was one of the big features and the choirs are rapidly growing.

Rev. Mahood preached on the subject of indifference. He said the sin of the age is indifference and that the sin of indifference creeps into the churches.

"More people stumble into perdition over the inconsistent lives of some church members than over the wicked lives of brazen sinners," he declared. He accused many church members of neglecting Bible study and their prayers until they lose all interest in spiritual things.

At the Baptist church Rev. Ostrom threw a broadside into the ranks of the skeptics. After relating the story of the woman with an incurable disease whom Jesus healed, he said:

"As she touched the hem of His garment, she immediately felt that she was healed and Jesus said: 'Someone hath touched me.' But Peter chides Jesus for saying this. The crowds were pressing him on every side. He thought Jesus didn't know what he was talking about."

"And there are men today who think they know more than Jesus. A Chicago man recently said, 'He knew that Jesus didn't know.' etc. We here see Jesus 'off guard' when he wasn't even trying to heal the disease that had baffled all physicians."

"It is the overflow life and this is the secret of a good life. The man without it might be good on Sunday but grumpy on Monday. Women without it smile at callers and scold the family later. This woman did not stop to question whether she could be healed. Instead of the question mark her action resembled the exclamation. And Christianity is never at its real worth unless exclamation. There is too much of the interrogation in our universities and theological seminaries. Men are wheedled around on intellectual question mark until they get dizzy and then people wonder why they don't walk straight. The church cannot be progressive without the exclamation. She must say 'Come on! Here's a welcome!'"

Tomorrow afternoon Mr. Ostrom will deliver an address on "The Every Day Man" at the Soloson theatre beginning at 3 o'clock. This will be a talk to men and a cordial invitation has been extended for all to attend.

LABOR LEADERS MAY KNOW FATE MONDAY

That is When Their Writ Will Come to Notice of the Supreme Court.

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Application for a writ of certiorari in the Gompers-Mitchell-Morrison contempt case was filed in the clerk's office of the Supreme Court of the United States today by Attorney Siddons, representing the defendants. The application will be brought to the formal attention of the Justices on Monday. The general belief is that it will not be granted. A search of the records of the court show that only about one application in ten is ever granted.

The usual practice is to take the matter under advisement for a week. If the writ is granted it means the whole case will be reviewed by the Supreme bench. It declined the labor leaders will be committed to jail forthwith. One course left is a habeas corpus proceeding but the attorneys have little hope of such a move being effective.

ROW OF PLAYS AT THE SOISSON.

Broken Idol Followed Early in December by Three

ATTRACTIONS THAT WILL PLEASE

"Aida" is booked for the 7th, "A Stub born Cinderella" on the 8th, and the "Merry Widow and the Devil" the following night.

It is a safe bet the plans at the Soisson theatre will be in good time next Tuesday night. Alice Yorkie is coming to town and the duty little actress hasn't forgotten the warm welcome she received here a few years ago when "Captain Carless" played at the Colonial. On that occasion the piano had not been keyed to the proper pitch and it was necessary to cut out the prettiest song in the score.

Miss Yorkie is with "A Broken Idol" this year and has with her Otis Harlan. Harlan is one of the leading comedians on the stage. Years ago he was almost a cruise down South when he played in a stock company with Little Chip and Mary Marble. Since then he has seen and conquered Broadway and this year is with the latest production of B. C. Whitney. The Whitney musical comedies all ways draw well in Connelville and "A Broken Idol" should prove no exception.

The week following "A Broken Idol" will see lots doing at the Soisson. On December 7 the English Opera Company will present the famous Italian opera "Aida." This will be the first grand opera of the season. The cast includes Louise Collier, Helen James and Adelaide Norwood. Miss Norwood appeared in Connelville last season in the title role of "Maudie" but because of a severe cold could sing only in one act. The same following grand opera will come the big musical comedy "A Stubborn Cinderella." This is a big production and one that earned its spurs along the Great White Way. For a while season it was the rage in New York. On December 9 Joe Weber's company will present a travesty on "The Merry Widow" and "The Devil." When these two troupes are staged in New York they drew almost as well as the original Savage production.

DRUGGISTS AT LAW OVER A NEW ACT

Labels Giving Formulas of All Prepared Medicines Must Now Be On Bottles

Local druggists are studying law these days and in addition to this are pasting labels on all their goods. The new drug law which came into effect October 1 the majority of them declare is a twister. All the old drugs in the stores have been labeled stating that they were purchased prior to October 1, while all the new drugs that are now received must have a label upon them stating the ingredients, the method of compounding and other details.

In the preparation of any article outside of a physician's prescription it is necessary to paste the formula upon the bottle. Some of the druggists assert that in order to comply with the law it is necessary to use a plant bottle for an ounce preparation in order to get enough surface to hold the label.

The law is aimed at preparations which do not come up to the standard and the formula is to give the purchaser some idea of what is being placed in the preparation. All the wholesale houses are being required to place their formula upon drugs used in prescriptions and these are subject to inspection by officials sent out by the Pure Food Division.

Quality Considered Prices Are Lower Than Elsewhere.

This applies to every department in each of our sixty-three general stores. We submit evidence to this statement daily. The best evidence is the large quantity of goods we sell not only to people living at the coal works but to a large number of people living in towns throughout the coal region and not employees.

Compare our Groceries and Provisions with the oppositions throughout the region. Compare the prices, compare the quality, compare the quantity we handle and you will easily conclude that we are in a position as very extensive dealers, to excel all competition. Our prices are lower because we buy in such large quantities. The quality is always good. Feasible goods are not kept in our stores long enough to become the least bit bad. The quantity sold at any one of our stores is as large as any opposition store—hence some label we have sixty-three stores.

CANNON SCORES THE INSURGENTS.

Defends Payne Tariff Bill in Characteristic Speech.

DEMAGOGUE ALWAYS WITH US

"Uncle Joss" in No Uncertain Manner Tells What He Thinks of His Opponents in Congress—Compares the Two Measures.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 27.—Before the Kuffs and Fork club of this city Speaker Cannon last night delivered a long speech in which he defended the Payne-Aldrich tariff act and scored the insurgents who opposed the passage of that law.

The speech, in the main, was devoted to the tariff, and Mr. Cannon compared conditions under the Wilson-Gorman and Dingley laws to those which he thought must obtain under the Payne-Aldrich law. After showing that the Sixtieth congress had appropriated $2,000,000,000, whereas the Fifty-third (Democratic) congress appropriated less than $1,000,000,000, Mr. Cannon said:

"Gentlemen, we cannot eat our cake and have it. If we want to return to the tariff of 1894, known as the Wilson law, we must also return to the Democratic simplicity of expending less than five hundred million dollars a year, or go bankrupt."

Insurgents Are Scored. Mr. Cannon scored the insurgents in no uncertain terms, declaring that some of them at least voted against the Payne bill, but voted to increase duties on products of their own particular sections.

"Senator La Follette," said Mr. Cannon, "did not vote to increase the duties on lead and zinc, but he defended the finance committee's schedule on those products in speech, saying that he would not vote on the question because he said he had personal pecuniary interest in the outcome."

"Senators La Follette and Brewster and the other insurgents voted to increase the duty on barley and barley malt for the reason that their constituents produce barley. In other words, these gentlemen who call themselves 'insurgents' voted with the Republicans on schedules that protected the products of their constituents and with the Democrats on schedules that protected the products of other sections of the country." Didn't Obtain All That Was Wanted. Mr. Cannon declared that there was not one member of the majority, including President Taft, Senator Aldrich and himself, who obtained all they wanted. "Senator Cummins," he continued, "complains that I have read him out of the Republican party. Other sensitive gentlemen have made the same complaint against President Taft. The senator does go too much for honor. I have not the authority to read any man out, nor have I the disposition. I think I may say the same for the president."

"The demagogue," said Mr. Cannon, in closing, "we have always with us, and as ours is a government of the people the only way to dispose of him is to move on. The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it, and I am perfectly willing to trust the verdict of a prosperous and happy people in the elections in November, 1910."

SCORES JUSTICE WRIGHT

Comptroller Declares Him Unfit to Wear Judicial Ermine.

Washington, Nov. 27.—"I repeat what I have said heretofore, Justice Wright is biased and is unfit to wear the judicial ermine," in these words Samuel Gompers, the president of the American Federation of Labor, referred to Associate Justice Wright of the district supreme court, who sanctioned Mr. Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, all officers of the federation, to varying terms of imprisonment for contempt of the court in the Bucks store and range case.

"If the supreme court of the United States declines to permit the issue to come before it for review or affirm the decision of the lower court, will you ask the president for a pardon?" was asked Mr. Gompers. "I will not be repaid," was his reply. "I will not permit my friends to do so. Had I violated any law and been found guilty and sentenced to prison, I might consider the question of seeking executive clemency."

MEXICO'S AID

Said To Be Wanted in Cleaning Up South America.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Diplomatic negotiations are in progress between the United States and Mexico with a view of reaching an agreement for joint action in the complicated political situation in Central America growing out of the present revolution in Nicaragua. Huntington Wilson, as the secretary of state, declined to discuss the negotiations with Mexico. The execution of the two Americans, Leroy Cannon and Leonard Greer, of course, is a matter in which Mexico has no concern and will be handled by the United States without outside aid.

In restoring peace in Nicaragua and in punishing President Zelaya of that republic for the repeated violations of the conventions of the Central American peace conference in Washington two years ago Mexico will probably be asked to cooperate with the United States. It is expected that the United States will take decisive action within the next few days.

The case against Zelaya, it is understood, is nearing completion. It is fairly well established, according to press reports from Bluefields, that Greer and Cannon held commissions in the revolutionary army at the time they were captured by General Tolado, the commanding officer of the Nicaraguan troops, now besieged in Greer town. According to the view of the legal officers of the state department, they were, therefore, entitled to treatment as prisoners of war under the usual rules of international law.

Poor in New York Not So Numerous as Last Year.

New York, Nov. 27.—Acting Mayor McGowan got reports from half a dozen charity organizations, all of them to the effect that they had failed to dispose of all the provisions they had for Thanksgiving dinners. That statement seemed to give Mr. McGowan more delight than surprise. "For," said he, "I had noted the signs for some time which made me hope that the conditions were improving here which those reports practically say have arrived. What I mean is that not in a long time have there been so few unemployed people in New York as at present."

"Encouraging people whose labor is specialized and who do not care to take employment except in their special line and eliminating also people who are idle because they are involved in a labor dispute involving a question of wages or work conditions and you will find in the city today a most gratifying condition as to employment."

COAL MEN APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT.

Operators Want Anti-Trust Law Amended to Permit Price Fixing.

MR. TAFT IS NONCOMMITTAL

The Mine Owners Contend That Competition Is Ruining the Trade and the Profits—Everyone Takes a Kick at the Coal Operator.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—A delegation representing the coal operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois called at the White House and urged President Taft to recommend an amendment to the anti-trust law that will permit them to form a combination to fix prices under Government supervision. If the President cannot see his way clear to making this recommendation, he was asked to secure the appointment of a commission to investigate the coal trade, and report upon the conditions under which it is carried on.

President Taft was non-committal in his reply to the coal men. He told them to submit their proposition in writing and promised to give it careful consideration. While he had no hesitation in saying he was entirely willing to recommend any measure that would give needed relief to any legitimate business, yet he was reluctant to champion any amendment to the anti-trust laws which might open the way to monopoly.

The delegation consisting of S. A. Taylor, representing the Pittsburgh district operators; Howard Huntington, Secretary of the Ohio Coal Operators' Association; T. K. Maher of the Pittsburgh Venetian Operators' Association; H. Scholkey, representing the Indiana coal operators; and Glenn W. Tiner of the Illinois coal operators.

They were introduced to the President by Representative John Duffell, who explained that T. L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, and expected to be present, was unable to come. However, Mr. Duffell said he was authorized by the proposition advanced by the operators. The delegation, the President was told, represented districts that produce 150,000,000 tons of coal annually, or 40 per cent of the entire bituminous production of the country. In the four States there are nearly 600 producing companies, not counting several hundred in West Virginia, which compete directly with these districts. These districts employ in the neighborhood of 175,000 mine workers. Many mining companies are becoming insolvent, and the tendency is growing for insolvent or embarrassed properties to pass into the hands of large financial interests. It was represented that in their present form the Federal and anti-trust act and similar acts in the States are forcing monopoly by direct ownership of properties.

"Coal operators in the past," declared Howard Huntington representing the Ohio association, "have taken their medicine and kept their mouths shut. Consequently the coal operator has played the goat. He has been the target for public criticism and popular attack. Meanwhile, between being compelled to sell coal below cost to the railroads and being restricted by custom from increasing to any extent the price to the average customer and with the cost of production steadily mounting, his profits have shrunk to near the vanishing point."

"Permission given the coal operators to agree on the prices under Government supervision will prove to be a union as much for the benefit of the small consumer as for the coal operator. These facts can be fully established by an investigation by the Federal Government. We want that sort of an investigation to prove to the public that our request for permission to agree on prices is a proper one."

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Heavy Demand For Steel Products Still Continues.

New York, Nov. 27.—Dun's Review of Trade says today: "Favorable industrial conditions remain unchanged and new production is now proceeding at an enormous rate. All through the west the thought and talk of the people is concerning things actually produced and wealth created from the soil. The recent warm weather checked activity in some mercantile lines and prices unfavorably in others and this gave the superficial impression of a pause in business revival. But the hard facts still point to a remarkable industrial expansion."

"The heavy demand for steel products continues and some reports indicate that specifications and new orders thus far this month have been even greater than the remarkable tonnage booked during October. There is increasing evidence of the reluctance of mills to accept business extending far into the future and few commitments have been made beyond the first half of 1910. Contemplated construction work will call for a large amount of material."

MORE HEADS DROP.

Ten Assistant Weighers Let Out of Customs Service.

New York, Nov. 27.—Ten more assistant weighers have been dropped from the customs service by Collector Loeb. The dismissal of this batch completes the general shake-up that the collector has been carrying on as a result of the under-weighing frauds. There are still, however, some individual cases on which the collector deems it wise to act on later. The employees dropped were civil service appointees and men from the civil service list of eligibles have been selected by the collector and by Deputy Surveyor Parr to fill the vacancies. The names of the men were not made public because there was not sufficient evidence to warrant formal charges against them. To Collector Loeb, however, the developments of the investigation made it apparent that the services of these men ought to be dispensed with for the good of the service. This batch makes a total of eighty-three weighers that have been dropped since the house cleaning began.

BIGAMIST SENTENCED.

Butler Court Gives Charles Turner Ten Years to Penitentiary.

Butler, Pa., Nov. 27.—"Judge, I couldn't help marrying the women," said Charles Alvin Turner, formerly of the Northside, Pittsburgh New Castle and Sharon, who went before Judge James M. Galbreath and pleaded guilty to charges of bigamy. He was fined $800, sentenced to serve two years in the Western penitentiary and barred from taking an oath or holding elective offices for ever.

Turner confessed he had sworn he was a single man when he took out a license at Butler, Aug. 28, 1909, and married Miss Clara Espey, a seamstress. He admitted a prior marriage to Mrs. Lydia Johnson in New Castle. He also admitted he married a woman at Chicago, from whom he was not divorced.

Turner says the women asked him to marry them and he couldn't resist. "When I got out of prison," said Turner, "I will slap the first woman who speaks to me."

With first place the goal, the Cubs fell down beautifully on the Temple grounds last night and permitted the Tigers, under Captain Warren Wright, to walk off with all three games. It was somewhat of a surprise for the Cubs had a hunch they would make some smoke. They smoked, but spilled fewer pins than the other fellows. The Tigers took the lead right off the jump. Martin Bechner displaced rare form, and with this star working in shape, Captain Wright was so jubilant that he only rolled a fair game the first time. After that he improved.

Although Captain Norris of the Topnotchers was rooting for the Cubs, they failed to rally. Their scores in the last two games were much better than the first, but the Tigers just continued their winning pace without interruption. Bechner was the individual star, rolling a total of 307. This came within three pins of equalling S. L. Dobbie's high mark. He rolled 110, 105 and then fell down to 39 in the last game. Downs got over the 100 mark and he did Captain Wright. Ninety-eight was the best the Cubs could pile up in any one game, that going to Goldsmith in the second. Harry Norton spilled 96, Moore 91 and Schoonover 90 in different games. The rooting was immense. Bell made the most noise for the Tigers, especially after he tied with Downs for second honors in the first game. There was jolly rivalry between the two teams throughout the evening, and this developed some good pitched games as the Cubs began to tumble. The Topnotchers are now in second place but the Tigers have a lead hard to beat. The season ends December 31. The scores:

PHILLIES CHANGE HANDS

Newspaper Man Elected President of National League Club. Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—Hercules S. Fogel, well known as a baseball writer, has been elected president of the Philadelphia ball club to succeed the late Senator Israel W. Durban, whose holdings in the club, as well as those of Senator James P. McNeel and Senator Clarence Wolf, he holds. The deal, which is believed to have been engineered by President Murphy of the Chicago National League club and another national league owner, reported to be John T. Brush of New York, has been under way for a few days and was only concluded when the stock held by William J. Shestina, business manager of the club, was secured. The men behind the deal have invested more than a half million dollars in the venture and they will buy outright the club's grounds, bounded by Broad and Fifth streets and Lehigh avenue and Huntington street.

Va., Nov. 27.—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad announced yesterday it will put the 3-cent fare rate into effect in West Virginia December 1. All the other trunk railroads running through the State have already done so. This action was taken by the railroad following a decision of Circuit Judge Hurdett, that the 2-cent fare law was unconstitutional. The State Supreme Court has not yet passed on the question.

JUMPED TO DEATH.

Unlabeled Man in Chicago Leaps From Third Story Window. CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 26.—Clinging his roommate and with a frantic good-bye on his lips William Cornish of Uniontown, Pa., jumped from the third story window of the Moody Ministerial college and died on his way to the hospital. He had been acting strangely for some time, and J. S. Osborne, his roommate, had been cautioned to keep a close watch on him. Osborne had retired early without Cornish, last night, and was awakened by the wild cry of Cornish as he fell to the sidewalk. The ambulance was summoned immediately but the man died in a few minutes. The body was taken to the morgue and relatives in Uniontown, Pa., notified.

William Cornish, age 31, the son of Mr. Elizabeth Cornish, of Conneltsville street, had resided in Uniontown all his life and was well known all over Fayette county. About three years ago Mr. Cornish sustained a fractured skull by being struck on the back of the head with a brick and his death was thought to be only a question of a few hours. He was removed to the Uniontown hospital and although he suffered greatly from the effects of the blow he recovered.

THE DUTY ON CIGARS AND FREE SUGAR

Congress Might Just as Well Have Put Them on Free List From the Philippines.

United Press Telegram. WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The discussion which Congress devoted to the question of free cigars and free sugar imported from the Philippines before it was decided to limit the amount of these commodities which may be imported free of duty might very well have been devoted to other subjects. The same result would have been obtained and Congress would have gained a reputation for generosity if it had decided to let the islands send over all the cigars and sugar they could. So far there is no indication that there is any chance of exceeding the limit imposed. The Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department has been informed that during the month of September, 7,355,000 cigars were shipped from the Philippines to the United States and 35,000 tons of sugar. These figures are accepted as a fair monthly average. At this rate of exportation there will be many less than 150,000,000 cigars allowed free entry. Similarly, it is not expected that there will be 200,000 tons of sugar. Much of the sugar which cleared for the United States during the month of September was held back pending the action of Congress so that it is likely that there will be a smaller amount shipped during the forthcoming months of the fiscal year.

PEARY INVENTED COAT FOR USE IN ARCTICS

There Are No Openings in the Garments Except at Bottom, Ends of Sleeve and Face.

United Press Telegram. WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Apart from the North Pole controversy Commander Robert E. Peary, has achieved at least one triumph for the benefit of mankind as a result of his latest Northern dash. This is the invention of a combined coat and hood, obviously for use in arctic latitudes for which the government has granted a patent to the explorer. The official gazette describes it as a garment made of substantial non-stretchable material adapted to cover only the trunk, arms and head of the wearer, having a body portion, arms and a hood. There are no openings except at the bottom, the ends of the sleeves and the face portion of the hood. Naturally the Peary jacket, as it might be called, slips over the head. The openings are provided with rims of fur forming a sort of backing about the wrists, face and waist to keep out the cold air.

WHAT ABOUT YOUR WINTER CLOTHES

Many men will decide the question this week. Let us help you in a way you won't regret.

"Better values" is the keynote of our clothing department. You will notice it all through the line. At every price we aim to make the quality a little better than can be obtained elsewhere. On this system the department has been built up.

We outgrew our space. The other departments had none to spare. The only thing left to do was to install new cases that would be more economical than tables in the use of floor space. The change has been made and we can now hang almost a thousand suits and coats where they will always be clean and in perfect shape.

We invite you to come in and visit the department. Ask to see some of the suits. We have them from $10 to $35 and will be pleased to show you anything you may be interested in. So many men find $20 a convenient price that we have featured the $20 line below.

Men's Suits for $20.00

The clothes here featured are the acme of excellence in garments sold at this price. Many of the suits are sold elsewhere at $25.00. Superior tailoring is a strong feature of the line. Perfect fit is guaranteed and there is a large assortment of patterns from which to select.

The line includes worsteds, soft finish cashmeres, chevots, and gorges in fancy blue stripes and the newest shades of gray in stripes and checks; also choice dark patterns for more conservative dressers. Coats either in large, loose swagger effect or slightly shaped—but all with excellent lines; trousers peg top or plain. These suits represent the latest styles in both model and pattern.

Black or Gray Overcoats $20.00

The overcoat you are going to buy when it gets cold can better be bought now. You'll have a better assortment to choose from and will have it when you need it. Whatever price you want to pay you will find a good assortment. $20.00 will get you a good one in black unfinished worsteds, silk lined; or for the same price you can get a fancy gray or tan in herringbone stripe or one of the popular Scotch grays, with auto collar. Meltons and kerseys in black and gray are also included.
